Oil Can

1953

FOREWORD

During the years spent as students of Senior High, we have watched momentous incidents happening in the world. These events—the Korean War and its problems, the national election, state and local issues—we may have thought little of at the time. But upon graduating these occurences have become important because we are confronted by their effect in our lives. As our senior year progressed, we realized that life is not merely for idle enjoyment but that it is best when guided by a definite purpose. In looking through the Oil Can, one can realize the various preparations offered by the school for facing these problems—the subjects we took, the guidance of our teachers, the extra-curricular activities.

Previously we were waiting only for the time when we, too, could attain the joy that our older brothers and sisters seemed to have as they graduated. Now we, the Class of 1953, have reached the goal and stand on the threshold of tomorrow. However, as we individually face our own problems, we can also remember the many occasions which we have all shared—football and basketball games, track meets and wrestling matches, clubs and school dances. We were creating the important events in our school history. This, our yearbook, presents their record.

THE 1953 OIL CAN

George J. Karle

DEDICATION

Though Mr. George Karle claims Pittsburgh as his birthplace, he has also lived in New York, Philadelphia, and New Kensington. He received his vocational education at Carnegie Institute of Technology and the University of Pittsburgh. Before coming to Oil City High School in 1939, he taught machine shop at Arnold, Pennsylvania. During the war he served as acting head of the O.C.H.S. vocational department. Metal spinning and reading are two of his favorite pastimes.

Mr. Karle's school spirit, enthusiasm, energy, and uprightness have won for him the respect and admiration of the entire school body. In grateful appreciation of his years of service to Oil City High School, we, the class of nineteen hundred fifty-three, dedicate to Mr. George Karle this volume of the Oil Can.

ALMA MATER

Faith have we in Oil City High
School we love so well
Of our noble Alma Mater
Let our praises tell.

Hail to Oil City High
Hail all hail again
Blue and white thy colors fly
Soaring upward to the sky.
Thee we'll cherish evermore
As the years go by.

Thee we'll raise in story and song
Other schools above
Our hearts swell with tender devotion
For the school we love.

Hail to Oil City High
Hail all hail again
Blue and white thy colors fly
Soaring upward to the sky.
Thee we'll cherish evermore
As the years go by.

SUPERINTENDENT

"To have a share in helping young people develop into strong, useful citizens," is foremost in Dr. Grumbling's mind. He enjoys helping young people plan their future lives and his pleasing personality is responsible for his winning many friends among the students and faculty of Senior.

Dr. Grumbling was born in Homer City, Indiana County, Pennsylvania, and has attended Indiana State Teachers College, University of Pittsburgh, and Waynesburg College. He has his B.S., M.A., and Pd.D degrees. His position is that of acting as chief administrative officer of all schools in Oil City, from kindergarten through the twelfth grade.

DR. H. VIRGIL GRUMBLING

PRINCIPAL

Because of Mr. Townsend's constant planning and undivided interest in our studies and activities, our four years in Senior have functioned smoothly. He was born in Arcanum, Ohio, and has attended Ohio State University and the University of Pittsburgh where he received his AB. and M.Ed. degrees.

"Having a part in the educational growth and development of boys and girls into good and useful citizens," and "the friendship and kindness of former students" is Mr. Townsend's chief enjoyment from his job. A friend to all, the student body and faculty all have the highest respect and regard for him.

ACTIVITIES

OIL CAN EDITORS

Under the supervision of their capable editor-in-chief, Bob Johnson, these editors assumed the task of creating the 1953 Oil Can. They discovered that it is not an easy assignment to produce a yearbook. It takes patience and long hours of labor. There were pictures to be taken, articles to be written and typed, advertising to be sold and an endless list of other jobs that had to be finished before the annual went to press, but they faced each new task, no matter how difficult, with determination. They were aided by John Ghrist who served as art advisor and Warren Anna who supervised the business details. When everything was complete and ready for the press, the editors breathed a sigh of relief. They hope that you will be proud, as they are, of the fruit of their labors now and in the years to come. May this Oil Can always be a cherished reminder of your never-to-be-forgotten years at Oil City High School.

OIL CAN STAFF

Prodded by their editors and advisors, members of the staff worked diligently to meet deadlines. What these energetic students lacked in ability they made up in ambition, and they were always willing to try any new task. They worked busily under the watchful eyes of their editors and advisors and hoped that there was really a method in their madness. You can be sure that each one was relieved when the Oil Can had been successfully completed.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The governing body of our school, under the supervision of Ernest Wright, is the Student Council. It is composed of representatives of the home rooms who meet to promote the successfulness of our activities. During the past year, it has, among other things, made and distributed athletic schedules, bought intra-mural wrestling trophies, sponsored the Public Relations Committee, and conducted charitable drives.

For the first time, this year a representative, Judy Bower, was sent to the state Student Council Convention.

The officers are Ron Black, President; Judy Bower, Vice President; Sally Sutton, Secretary; and Ed Petulla, Treasurer.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The John Dewey Chapter of the Future Teachers of America was organized at Senior in 1950. The club serves a twofold purpose. It encourages young people to develop in themselves the qualities of personality and character which are the foundations of successful teaching. The group strives to provide young people with specific information about opportunities in the various fields of education.

Ron Black served as President; Vice President was Carol Paulie; while Patty Jo Dolecki acted as corresponding Secretary and Marilyn Wheeling's position was Recording Secretary. Advisors were Russell Buckham and Dana Pringle.

F. O. C.

Friendship out of Competition is the new name for the Public Relations Committee. The purpose of this committee was to encourage better relations between Franklin and Oil City students. The main activity was sponsoring a dance for students of both schools after the football game. Leading the other activities were Lorraine DeFrance as chairman and Pam Forker as secretary with Ernest Wright as faculty advisor.

FUTURE HOME MAKERS OF AMERICA

The purpose of F.H.A. was to plan and participate in activities that will help one find her own interests and talents. These girls learned to work and co-operate with others and become successful homemakers. Miss Mary Lou Moore and Mrs. Ruth Mead were advisors. The officers were President, Janet Rivar; Co-President, Mary Sandrock; Vice-President, Carolyn Mitchell; Secretary, Barbara Reynolds; and Program Chairman, Donna Lewis.

SENIOR HI NEWS

Aided by their advisor, Miss Margaret Nelson, the Senior High News Staff put forth one of the finest volumes in the publication's twenty-one year history. Much of the credit goes to the diligent managing editor, Shirley Deeter. The editorial page was handled by Bobbie Lee Slater and Jim McLaughlin. Fred Quinn and Peg Zuck reported the sports events, and Saralene Zehrung managed advertising under George Mohr's direction. Dusty Graffe and Marilyn Wheeling collaborated as artists. Reporters were: Marilyn Betz, Barbara Byham, Rose Clark, Larry Gadley, Maxine Goss, Phyllis Grening, Marlene Kahle and Julia Shay.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

To attain membership in the National Honor Society is the highest scholastic honor that can come to a junior or senior of our high school. Members are nominated previously by a committee of faculty members and must rank highly in the traits of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. This year's officers included Art Blank, President; Maureen Peterson, Secretary; and George Mohr, Treasurer.

CAMERA CLUB

The aim of this club is to teach the fans to take pictures the correct way. They also learned the parts and workings of their cameras. The skill of developing their own pictures was accomplished by many of the students. This year the club had as President, Horst Smettana, the German exchange student. The other officers were John Master, Vice President; and Kay Way doubling for Secretary and Treasurer. The advisor was John Ghrist.

SENIOR SECRETARIAL CLUB

The club elected Maureen Peterson, President; Joanne Leasure, Vice President; and Betsy Baker, Secretary-Treasurer. This club provides an opportunity for the members to hear guest speakers discuss business situations and conditions. One of their main projects this year was to entertain the secretarial graduates of 1952. The girls also made blue and white shakers for football games, did typing jobs for the teachers, and were responsible for the advertising that appeared in the Senior High News. Co-operating with the Commercial Club, they formed a local chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America.

JUNIOR SECRETARIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club provides an opportunity for sophomores and juniors who are taking commercial subjects to meet once a month to discuss their future in the business world. President for the club was Donna Marschinke while Beverly Saylor acted as Secretary-Treasurer.

PUBLIC READING CLUB

The Public Reading Club did a fine job of leading the devotions and introducing the programs for the assemblies. Under the supervision of Mrs. Irene Gill, club advisor, the members improved their ability to speak before an audience. Officiating for the club this year were June Manby, President; Diane Payne, Vice President; Creeta Smith, Secretary; and Polly Fox, Treasurer. With the dues, the club bought a new Bible for the school and had a tureen dinner in December.

LATIN CLUB

Members of the Latin Club strive to achieve their purpose which is the understanding of Roman life. This year the club members made posters and carvings, built ships, and models of Roman homes, tombs, and temples. Interesting programs of Latin life and activities were planned by Mrs. Evelyn Haney, club advisor; and Counsul, Bob Petulla; assisted by Ann Butler, Scribo; and Jane Cameron, Praefectus Aerai. One of the main social events was the club's Saturnalia celebration at Christmas.

El Circulo de Espanol

Reorganizing this year under Miss Ruth Kaufman, the Spanish Club rolled up its activities with Senor Bean presiding. The members, consisting of first and second year students, enjoyed an autumn hike, singing Spanish songs, and a weiner roast at Henry's Bend.

FRESHMEN MATH CLUB

The function of the Freshman Math Club was to read and discuss problems in the computational field. Officers during the past year were Mary Burchanowski, President and Mary Wojtowicz, Vice President. Raymond Goodwill was faculty advisor.

Le cercle francais

Under the guidance of Miss Beryl Eddy, the "messieurs" and "mesdemoiselles" of the "Le cercle francais" enjoyed French games and music and presented several plays. This year's officers were Lois Follstaedt, Roberta Johnson, and Jim McMullen.

LOCAL HISTORY

Exploring the history of Oil City and surrounding countryside was the activity of this club, known to its members as the "Cornplanter Council of Future Junior Historians". The group, organized last year, has made rapid progress having played host to the Local History clubs of Northwestern Pennsylvania this spring.

Donna Marchinki served as President. Other officers were Bobbie Slater, vice President; Marilyn Betz, Secretary, assisted by Janet Kay. Vance Brown acted as faculty advisor.

DEBATE CLUB

Under the kindly and able guidance of Mrs. Irene Gill and Warren Anna, our debate teams propounded their arguments on three timely questions concerning International Organization. Those elected to lead the club were Fred Quinn, President; Virgil Grumbling, Vice President; and June Manby, Secretary. This year the teams were required to be prepared to speak on three topics rather than one as in previous years. During the season the teams contested with varius schools. Also vital to the debate program are the chairman, judges, timekeepers, and members of the social committee who were helpful in making the visiting teams feel welcome during tea after the debates.

LIBRARY STAFF

Under the capable guidance of Miss Eleanor Hoy, thirty-eight sophomore, junior, and senior girls kept the library running smoothly and efficiently. At the end of their freshman year, these girls were recommended by their teachers for scholastic ability and efficiency.

Some of the many duties of the librarians were checking in books, looking up back magazines for reference, straightening shelves, preparing new books for circulation, stamping new magazines, answering questions and filling the requests of the faculty and students who use the library throughout the year.

AUTO SHOP

ART CLUB

In appreciation of art, these members have joined this club under the supervision of John Ghrist. At one of the first meetings, the members chose as their officers for the year: Ann Stewart, President; and Dusty Graffe, Secretary-Treasurer. The members meet once a month for social and artistic pleasure. The club is responsible for many of the posters we had hanging in the hall this past year. Some of its members have a genuine interest in art and plan to go on in that field.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

The Junior Red Cross is a worthwhile club in Senior, for its purpose is community or world service. Each summer, delegates from Council are sent either to a camp or a national convention for leadership training. Joe Skelly, a Senior, presided over the Council along with Vice President Leroy Rodgers, a Junior; Secretary Ann Hunt, a Senior; and Treasurer Dave Schoch, a Sophomore. Miss Margaret Reid is the teacher-advisor under the direction of Miss Harriet Allen, Executive Secretary of the American Red Cross in Oil City. Membership in the Chapter is open to all O.C.H.S. students.

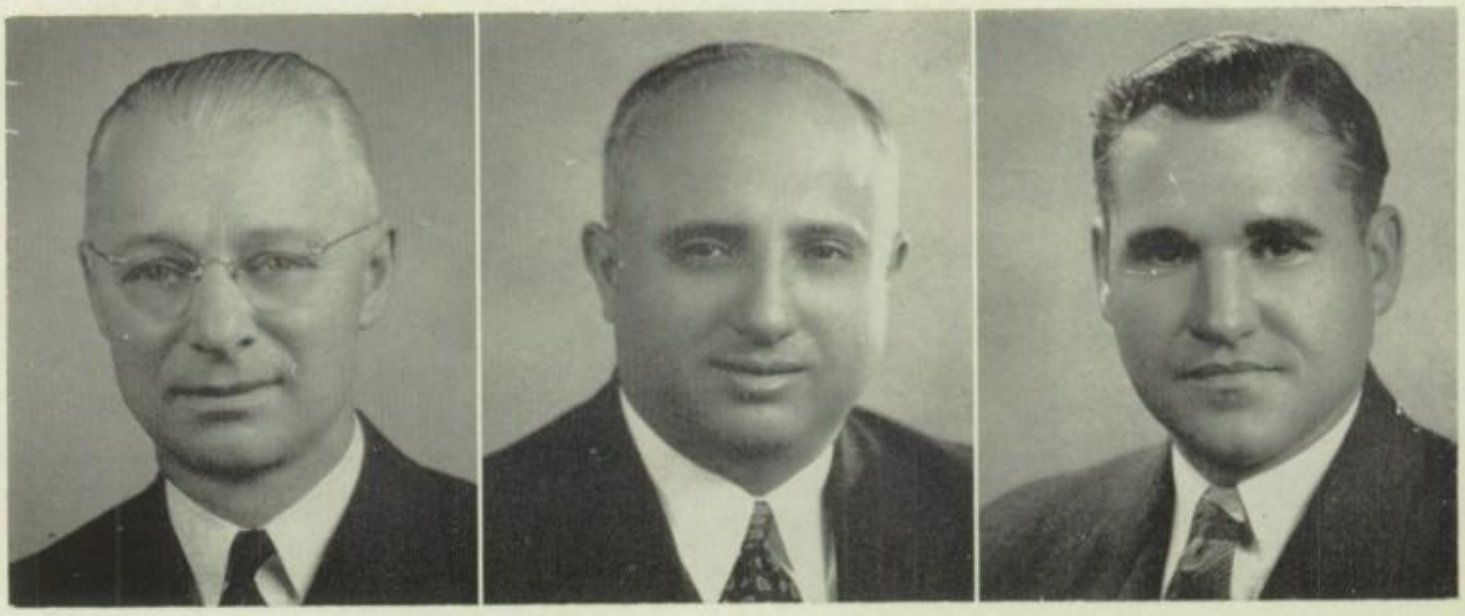
MUSIC DEPARTMENT



Harland Mitchell, head of the music department directs A Cappella, Girls' Chorus and Choir, Girls' Quartette, and Boys' Octette. Philip Runzo directs Band, Orchestra, Swing Band, and Majorettes. Gerald Keefer directs the ninth grade music and Girls' Ensemble.

To be a member of A Cappella Choir is the ultimate goal of every musically -minded student at Senior. Offering such selections as "Grief to Glory" and that ever popular spiritual "Dry Bones", 175 seniors, juniors, and sophomores comprised one of the finest choirs Senior has known in recent years. The "Old Pro" Harland Mitchell, a man respected by every member of his large "family", patiently guided them through rehearsals and various public appearances. The choir's outings this year included a trip to Painesville, Ohio, to present an afternoon concert to the public school and a trip to Slippery Rock to take part in an out-door pageant. The "big occasion" for the year was "Swing Out" when Noble Cain was our guest conductor. We will long remember the strains of "Second Crucifixion" and "Preludes". Ninteen members were selected to be sent to the District Chorus at Wesleyville, while Lorraine DeFrance received the honor of traveling to Kittanning for the All-State Chorus.

A CAPPELLA

GIRLS' CHOIR AND CHORUS

Under the direction of Harland C. Mitchell, Girls' Choir and Girls' Chorus are two of the more elected subjects of the sophomore and junior girls. Those in Girls' Choir are promoted to A Cappella the following year, and those in Girls' Chorus are advanced to Girls' Choir.

Both of the musical organizations use the student government plan to keep order. It is made up of officers and section leaders elected by the entire group.

Ann Harmon was elected President of Girls' Choir; Carol End, Secretary; and Kay Harper, Librarian. Shirley Kurschinske, Gale Neely, Beth Biery, Mary Rynd, Beverly Lewis, Norma Flinchbaugh, Maxine Goss, and Gloria Caruso presided over the various sections.

Girls' Chorus hailed Martha Jetter as President, while Janice Fields and Flo McGreevy took over the jobs of Secretary and Librarian. Girls chosen as section leaders were Mary Klapec, Josephine Kalamajka, Vickie Risher, Louanne Koerner, Catherine Gajewski, Esther Gayetty, Joyce Ferringer, and Ann Kugler.

SWING BAND

The Swing Band, under the direction of Phil Runzo, performed for the home basketball games, pep meetings, school assemblies, and dances. Their music was strictly "dream stuff" set off with Sam Hagerty as vocalist.

These music makers boasted Dick Neubauer as their manager, who set the beat at all home basketball games, while Lorraine DeFrance acted as assistant manager.

Seniors who played for the last time this year were as follows: Lorraine DeFrance and Bill Steffee, alto sax; Jim McMullen, tenor sax; Henry Allen, trombone; Sam Hagerty, drums; Diane Bellen and Helen Weaver, bass; Dick Neubauer, trumpet.

MUSIC CLUB COUNCIL

The Music Club Council is a club consisting of the Presidents and Secretaries of all the large music groups, such as the band, orchestra, and choruses, also the leaders of all ensembles. The club takes care of the ticket sales for music assemblies and the making of rules for all music groups.

MAJORETTES

This year we saw the results of hard work and time given by each O.C.H.S. majorette. These girls practiced regularly every day during the seventh period. They arranged their routines with some extra help from Miss Lauffer and Philip Runzo. The new uniforms added to the great performances our majorettes gave us during the football and basketball seasons. Their talent was appreciated outside the school when they traveled to Titusville and Rocky Grove for request performances. The senior girls leaving us are: Beverly Bain, Betsy Baker, Joanne Leasure, Joyce Peters, Helen Weaver, and head-majorette Jean Buchna. We'll long remember the colorful Latin-America Saga routine with Jean as the gay senorita.

GIRLS' ENSEMBLE

The harmony that echoed through the halls every Tuesday was the Girls' Ensemble practicing. Gerald Keefer selected these fifteen girls on the basis of sight reading and tonal quality. The group elected as its officers Maureen Peterson, President; Lorraine DeFrance, Secretary; and Mary Ita Smith, Librarian. The Ensemble made many public appearances at various organizations around town.

BAND

"You're out of step!" "Get in line!" These are two of the many orders that were heard as the marching band moved on to the football field for its half-time shows. This past year, aided by new uniforms, unusual formations, and excellent musicianship, the band was rated as one of the best in the school's history.

After the football season, concert music was begun, and several concerts were given in the spring. At Christmas Philip Runzo and the officers planned and gave a party that was enjoyed by all the instrumentalists. An outstanding event anxiously awaited was the Northwestern District Band. Fourteen of Oil City High School's best musicians were selected to participate in this band which was held at Warren in January.

Everyone agrees that the band had a very successful year, but its success must be attributed mainly to the director, Philip Runzo. All the members are sincerely grateful for his help and the encouragement he gave; he will long be remembered.

The officers of the past year were President, Dick Neubauer and Secretary, Bill Steffee. These officers along with the student conductors helped in maintaining order and in taking charge of the class.

ORCHESTRA

Under the direction of Mr. Runzo, the twenty-six piece orchestra concluded another successful year by presenting selections for the Baccalaureate and Commencement services. Other activities throughout the year were furnishing music for the Senior Class play, the Mystery play, and the Clare Tree Major plays. At an enjoyable assembly program given by the orchestra, emblems were presented to all seniors who had been members of this organization for at least two years. An annual event, in which every member hopes to participate is District Orchestra. This orchestra consists of the best musicians in the entire Northwest District. Six members from Oil City attended. They were Shirley Norbom, Diane Bellen, Roberta Karll, Henry Allen, Dennis Vickery, and Charles File. From this select group, Shirley Norbom was later chosen for State Orchestra. It was her second year to achieve this honor. State Orchestra is comprised of the states' most outstanding musicians.

To undertake the responisbility of president, the group elected Horst Smettana, while Dick Neubauer handled the secretarial duties. Five students who were accurate in rhythm and tone acted as student directors. These students opened each period by directing one or two numbers, and they assisted during orchestra concerts and assembly program. Our student directors for this year were Henry Allen, Dick Neubauer, Jean Runzo, Jim McMullen, and Mary Ann Davis.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

"Meet Corliss Archer" was presented November 20 and 21 by the class of '53 under the direction of F. L. Lewis with the student directors Nancy Heath and Shirley Shepherd. Corliss, a teen-age girl, was played by Diane Lauffer. Robert Johnson played "Holy Cow" Dexter Franklin, a boy-next-door. As the plot unfolded the audience was delighted at the involved situations these two got in. When Corliss and Mildred, played by Sidney Byerly, decided life was just too boring, they wrote fantastic tales in Corliss' diary. Then things really began to happen. However things turned out right, and the audience left with a smile on their faces and a lighter heart. Other members of the cast were Mr. Archer—Joe Skelly; Mrs. Archer—Lillian Wattsjer; the maid—Doris Smith; Mr. Franklin—Bob Lyons; Mrs. Franklin—Mary Ann Diem; Cousin Agnes—Nancy Richards; the doctor—Eric Proudfoot; Betty—Adelle Jarosz; and the nurse—Ann Bunting.

1—Shirley Shepherd, Nancy Heath.

2—Diane Lauffer, Mary Ann Diem, Doris Smith, Lillian Wattsjer, Ann Bunting, Sidney Byerly.

3—Adelle Jarosz, Eric Proudfoot, Bob Johnson, Bob Lyon, Joe Skelly, Nancy Richards.

EUCLID CLUB

The Euclid Club, under the direction of Mrs. Esther Duink, is limited to seniors who are interested in mathematics. The project this year was learning to do computations by using slide rules. Those who were not interested in slide rules did curve stitching. Officers for the year were Bob Lyons, President; Roberta Johnson, Vice President; and Shirley Brannon, Secretary.

MYSTERY PLAY

The mystery play, "Ghostly Fingers", was presented on February 26 and 27. Members of the cast were Carol Pinney—Mrs. Pike, hotel owner; Joyce Stover—Mrs. Green; Ann Miller —Hattie Gaunt; Henry Allen—Eustace Scudder, sheriff; Norma Flinchbaugh—Mary Arnold, a reporter; Art Blank—Victor Elliot, Mary's fiance; Ken Fay—Joe Griggs; Jean Runzo—Myra Griggs; Ann Stewart—Lucy, crazy girl; Phil Weida – Denny Neill; Don Holquist—Louie; and Gordon Porter—Phil. F. L. Lewis was director of the annual production. The play took place in a hotel in an isolated region during a storm. Low rumbles of thunder and secret passageways with a faulty lighting system created a suspense-filled atmosphere. Several mysterious visitors came to the hotel, including Victor Elliot, the husband of Mrs. Pike's daughter who committed suicide after his desertion. He was now involved in smuggling a precious ruby and was trying to cheat his colleagues. But they followed him, and in an attempt to escape, he was murdered. The murderer who managed to evade his capturers for a while was one the audience would least suspect. He was a disappointed suitor of Mrs. Pike's daughter and had waited long to take revenge.

MIXED ENSEMBLE

After a lapse of several years, a Mixed Ensemble was again organized under the direction of Harland C. Mitchell; however most programs were presented by its smaller groups, the Girls' Quartette and the Boys' Octette. These programs constituted mostly music from the popular vein, which ranged from the current hits to the all-time favorites. Whether singing together or in the separate groups, these students were in constant demand at churches, service clubs, and other organizations throughout the city. Mary Ann Davis acted as accompanist.

MAKEUP AND STAGE FORCE

Working extra hours behind closed curtains, we find the stage force. Stu Oxenham was the manager and has been on the stage force for four years. The other seniors are Bill Kleinbauer and Ed Hlawati. Completing the force are Chuck Carabell, Scott Himes, John Gajewski, and John Pop. Also not seen, but working hard, was the makeup staff. Donna Lewis who has been on the staff for four years served as manager. Shirley Brannon and Pam Forker have been on for three years and Maxine Goss for two years. Helping these girls apply the paint were June Manby and Delores Peters. These crews were supervised by James Townley.

FOOTBALL COURT

Serving as attendants to the queen from Franklin were six seniors: Jean Manby, Ann Stewart, Patty Jo Dolecki, Maureen Peterson, Ann Hunt, and Pam Forker. There were also two juniors: Elinor George and Carol Paulie. All were chosen by the Oil City football team.

PROM KING AND QUEEN

On the night of May 29th, the Knights of Columbus Hall became alive with music and glittering decorations, as this year's juniors presented our annual prom. The climax of the evening came when Ann Hunt and Donald Bean were crowned as king and queen of the 1953 Prom.

FOOTBALL TEAM

Although they lost the Section II championship to Corry again this year, John Kaufman's Oilers of 1953 compiled the best record of any Oil City football team in recent years.

Finishing the year with a six win, four loss record, the Oilers started by defeating the Titusville Rockets on the Mitchell Avenue Field. Losing the next two games to Grove City and Greenville, the Oilers came back on the victory trail by whipping Warren and North East in convincing style. After dropping a heartbreaker to Meadville, Millcreek and Hickory were added to the string of Oiler victories. Next came the fatal defeat at Corry, after which the season was drawn to a close by swamping the Franklin Nursery.

The spirit and determination of this year's squad will be an inspiration to many Oiler teams which follow.

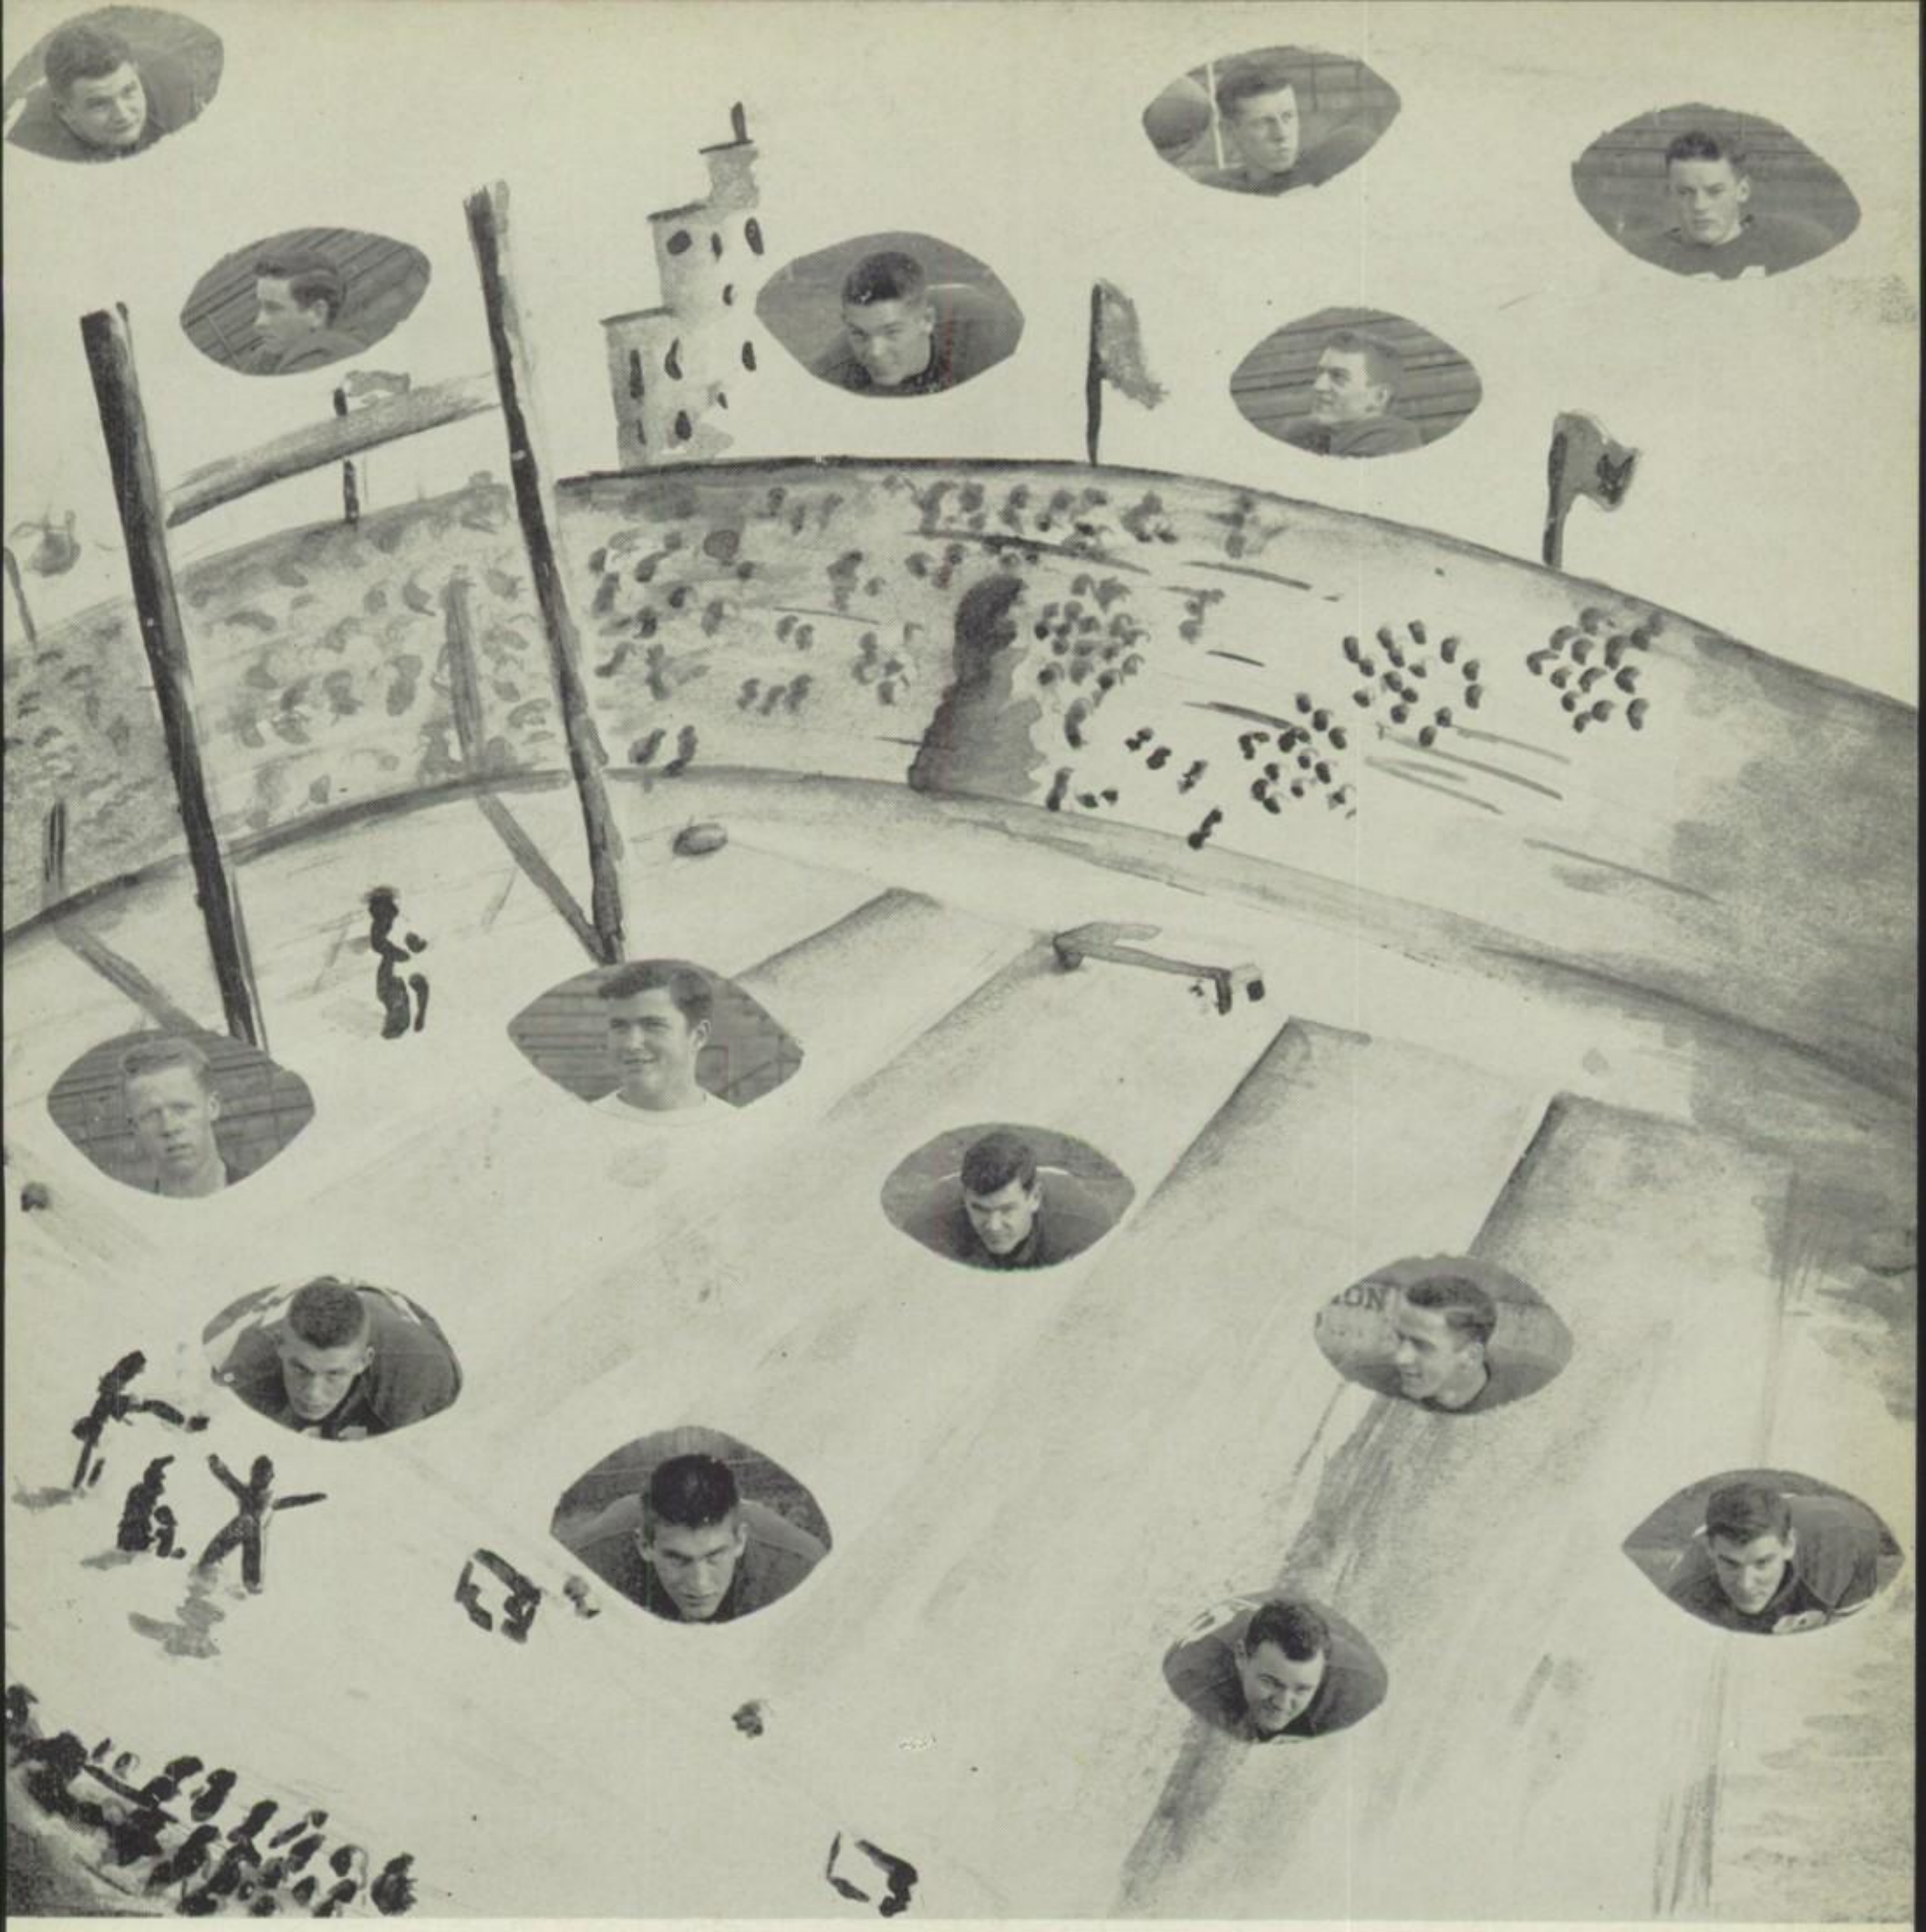
COACHES



SENIOR PLAYERS

McFadden .....the team's honorary captain and exploding half-back.
Bean .....a mighty guard with unfailing spirit.
Pleger .....a hard-driving full-back.
Oxenham .....a crack line-backer.
Russell .....an end with unfailing effort.
Higbee .....a center with a quick snap.
Geer .....a guard many opponents feared.
Porter and Quinn.....two ace managers.
Black .....a neat ball receiver.
Lynam .....a full-back who proved menacing.
McClellan.....a husky and powerful tackle.
Fay .....a great half-back and passer.
Toy.....a stocky hole opener.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

"Great" is the the word for the varsity basketball squad. They showed the Oil City fans some lively games and most of all, close teamwork. Team cooperation, individual shooting talent, and fast defensive abilities led to a 15-5 record. This record, of which we are all very proud, was obtained through hard practice and extra hours of scrimmage. Also, it gave Hud Wells results for the time and energy he spent in coaching the team.

The '53 Wellsmen consist of Ron Black, Ken Pleger, the two returning lettermen; Bob Lyons, John Fairbanks, Jerry Callahan, Pete Burch, Dave Settlemire, Bosco Hajduk and Ed Lynam. Not to be forgotten is our sharp-tongued eager beaver manager Fred (Froggy) Quinn.

We will always remember the breathless nerve-tingling game with the Meadville Bulldogs on our own home floor. The opponents were leading by twelve points when high scorer for the night, Ken Pleger, brought the advantage down to a six point lead for the Bulldogs. In the final minute of the last quarter our own Bob Lyons tied the score with a foul shot. Then with sixteen seconds left to play, Ron Black made his second try at the foul line thus beating the Meadville champs 72-71. Wow, what a game! What players! What a team!

Yes, that's the way the whole season went. Close games, gripping thrills, lung splitting cheers, and sweat covered players added to the excitement of each game. We were all a part of the Tuesday and Friday night bedlams. Never will we forget this and the wonderful basketball squad of '53.

COACH

JUNIOR VARSITY

The little Oilers put up a good fight in each game and came out on top with a record of 10 wins and 5 losses. The peppy Oilers never gave until the final whistle was blown at the end of the fourth quarter. In each game the boys showed great teamwork which is one of the greatest essentials for a winning team and led them to the victory trail. Keep an eye on these boys. They're the future O.C. H.S. cage stars.

SENIOR PLAYERS

John Fairbanks—A left-handed foul shot was "Big John" Fairbank's specialty; he was a cool guard and hot on the rebounds. "Deadeye" John was new this year.

Ron Black—Our Wellsmen Captain proved to be the playmaker of the team. Mighty fine passing and long distance shooting describes this Oiler.

Ken Pleger—High-scoring Ken kept the scores soaring in the games. He was a constant worry to the defensive opposition as they tried to stop him under the hoop.

Ed Lynam—Coming into the games to rack up more points was Ed Lynam. Although not very tall, his long shots swished through the basket from side court.

Bob Lyons—All of Bob (Stretch) Lyons' seventy-six inches was used to make him our tallest member on the squad. We found this to be of great advantage.

Fred Quinn—Water boy, clothes-tree, equipment carrier, rooter, and all-round wit was the manager for the Wellsmen squad, Fred (Froggy) Quinn. He was the finishing touch to this excellent basketball squad.

J. V. CHEERLEADERS

Hey there! Let's sing it, shout it, tell it all around that Vickie Risher, Diane Dehn, Kay Way, Ray Raucher, Norma Flinchbaugh, and Betty Beatty really went to town. With energy and spirit they lead the fans at football and basketball games. At half time the crowds marveled at the performance of their precision marching drills as they were Struttin' on down the floor. Some new favorites were Tick Tock, Water Boy, and Smear 'Em. Working overtime, and doing an excellent job, these girls deserve praise from the O.C.H.S. pupils.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

The topnotch cheerleaders at O.C.H.S. this year were blushing Peggy Gibson, untiring June Manby, and happy-go-lucky Jean Manby, all members of the graduating class; and juniors peppy Sandra McCartney, spirited Carol Paulie, and sprightly Eileen Jamison. These enthusiastic pepsters practiced faithfully to become the best cheerleaders O.C.H.S. ever produced. Under the expert coaching of Miss Beverly Lauffer, they have turned up quite a few nice tricks, among which are flips, backbends, splits, cartwheels, and pyramids. They added vim and vigor to the pep meetings. Great going, gals!

TRACK

Under the guidance of John Kaufman and Blair Hildebrand the Oiler thinclads got off to an early start. The boys were put through various drills and exercises in the boy's gym as the sharp March winds kept them from moving out-of-doors.

After several weeks of hard practice, the season was ready to begin. The boys really had to "expand those muscles" and "loosen those joints" to make ready for their first meet.

The gun went off! The Oiler relay team passed the baton along, and the end man crossed the finish line for another Oiler victory. This was only one of the exciting events that occured at an Oiler track meet at Mitchell Avenue Field. With a number of returning lettermen the Oilers were bound to have a successful season. Meets were scheduled with Warren, Titusville, Corry Meadville, and Mercer.

VARSITY "O" CLUB

Varsity "O" Club consisting of all Oiler lettermen in football, basketball, wrestling, track, and cheerleading wound up another successful year under the guidance of "Hud" Wells. The Varsity "O" members sold pencils with the football and basketball schedules inscribed on them to buy athletic publications for the library.

WRESTLING

The grunt and groan boys from O.C.H.S. put in a fine performance this year. The record for the year was six wins, five losses, and one tie. The wrestling matches are getting to be one of the most popular O.C.H.S. spectator sports. Each year of its seven year history the crowds have gotten larger and the matches more thrilling. This year at each home match, the boys were backed by capacity crowds of loyal fans. The fine record wouldn't have been possible without the all-out effort of all the Oiler grapplers. All the boys on the squad worked hard to better the school's record. The "big guys" of this year's squad were Bob McFadden, Don Dolecki, and Lawrence Petulla who won honors for O. C. H. S. in the Southern Division at Greenville. They went on to capture District 10 championships which were held at Erie Academy. Great going, guys! The team was coached by Blair Hildebrand who has done a great job and has the admiration and respect of all the boys on the team. The student manager was Jack Leskoske.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association proved to be a more efficient organization than the ones in preceding years. Under the direction of Beverly Lauffer, the girls from the freshmen, sophomore, junior, and senior grades enjoyed such games as volleyball, basketball, and swimming. Basketball and volleyball teams were formed by girls from different classes, then class teams were picked, and finally an all-star Blue and White team was chosen. The volleyball games were played after school, and the class teams and basketball teams played in the evening.

Presiding over the club was Jean Manby, a senior from 223, President; Carol Paulie, junior from 342, Vice President; and Betty Beatty, a sophomore from 304, Treasurer.

During the club year, two swimming parties were enjoyed by the mixed classes in the evening at the Y. M. C. A.

The club year is in existence from April to April as far as awards are concerned. This year Miss Lauffer and helpers have tabulated points and have decided to put a trophy in the trophy case with the name of the senior with the highest number of points inscribed on it for each year. Various awards will be given to the next highest points in line. Thus in future years, the girls of the G. A. A. will have a goal to strive for.

This year G. A. A. has had one of its biggest enrollments and greatest attendance compared to years gone by. The colorful activities and the way the teams were formed appealed to the girls. Most of the girls looked forward to each game with anticipation.

One of the greatest things stressed by Miss Lauffer was to have good sportsmanship. All the games were played on friendly terms and nobody ever questioned his fellow player. Therefore, G.A.A. was one of the most popular clubs among the girls.

UNDER the coaching eyes of John Kaufman and Bob Bidwell, the Oiler track team began early practice sessions in the boys' gym in preparation for the spring season. As soon as the weatherman brought favorable conditions, the work-outs were moved to Mitchell Field.

Long hours of drill and practice brought rewards of fine records left by the blue and white thin-clads at inter-city, district, and state meets.

Stand-outs were Charlie Winger who copped first place in the mile at Penn State University and Paul Wood who broke the OCHS record for shot put.

HONOR SOCIETY

SCHOLARSHIP, leadership, character, and service -- these are uppermost in the minds of the faculty selection committee each spring when the annual induction service of the National Honor Society draws near. Recognition is made only of juniors and seniors who rank high in the society's four traits of qualification.

Proceeds from the sale of refreshments at basketball games go toward scholarships presented to deserving members who are planning to further their educations. At the senior class banquet, Henrietta Leyda, faculty advisor, presented a scholarship of $150 to Bob Lenar. With additional funds raised at the Cranberry High games at Lincoln gym, the National Honor Society presented two additional $75 scholarship awards to Barbara Swetsky and Don Dolecki.

Officers who served for the 1953-54 term were: president, Bob Lenar; vice president, Saralane Zehrung; and secretary, Jane Evans. George Mohr, a member of the faculty, handled the treasurer's duties. m In addition to the officers, the following are National Honor Society members: Juniors, Joan Bodner, Edna Adhemar, Marilyn Tarleton, Norma Flinchbaugh, Mary Griffiths, David Schoch, Lee Belfore, and Charles Harbison; seniors, Barbara Reynolds, Jeanne Runzo, Bobbie Lee Slater, Beth Biery, Marilyn Wheeling, Carol Paulie, Bob McFadden.

Recognition of eight seniors as honorary members took place at the senior class banquet. They were: Faye Baker, Kay Rauscher, Elinore George, Carole End, Maxine Goss, Betty McClellan, James Carey, and James Kistler.

PROM

SPRINGTIME in Paris, the theme of the prom, remained a secret until the night of the big affair. Chairman of the dance committee, Norma Flinchbaugh, engaged the Johnny Martin Orchestra of Greenville for the occasion at the Knights of Columbus Auditorium. Familiar scenes were the Eiffel Tower and the Arch of Triumph.

Success of the annual dance is credited to the prom committee and junior class officers who were aided by faculty members, Beryl Eddy, Blaine Stover and John Ghrist.
